Leonardo da Vinci VETPRO-Project

"Care and Guidance Systems - Crises and Violence Prevention in VET" institution, contact person, function, contact details	Friedrich-List-Schule, project co-ordinator Jochen Pohl, project management Tel.: +49 30 818535-20, Fax: -40 j.pohl@fls-international.de School Psychology Service Berlin Dieter Paetsch, educational psychologist Tel.:+49 30/902776641 or +49 177/7177659 dieter.paetsch@senbwf.berlin.de project name/title	Care and Guidance Systems - Crises and Violence Prevention in VET (CAREforVET+)

Project type	Leonardo da Vinci VETPRO (Professionals in vocational education and training) initial situation/ project background Why? For whom?	Increase of consultancy needs of students and school staff regarding violence, school distance and -drop out; need for personnel qualification and organisational development The project is designed for educational psychologists, consulting teachers/school staff and their cooperation partners.
main targets of the project What?	• Qualification of personnel • Organisational development through • development of network structures for exchange of information • exploration of best practice examples by multi professionally composed groups • transfer of best practice examples • job-shadowing project activities What activities are planned?	• 1-week visits • obtaining an overview of the lcal VET system • obtaining an overview of the local care and guidance system • visiting institutions of the local care and guidance system • discussion/conferencing with professional of the local guidance and care system project duration How long? When?	2 years
Local/International partners already involved	• Education Union (GEW) • Association of German Psychologists (BDP) • Nepes (NETWORK of EUROPEAN PSYCHOLOGIST in the EDUCATIONAL SYSTEM) • foundation SPI , link-up between youth services and police • Friedrich-Ebert-Foundation (request)
Project language	• a working knowledge of English desirable • German with English translation